

SEAA'S TRILOGY NEARS COMPLETION

Much like J. R. R. Tolkien's, "Lord of the Rings" trilogy, the SEAA Steel Deck and Joist Committee in concert with the Safety Committee is completing the third in SEAA's training series with the much-anticipated Metal Decking Video.

The decking video will be the third in the series, which includes the popular and already available "Handling Structural Steel" and "Steel Joists & Steel Girders" training videos. The topics to be covered include, Planning, Manufacture, Shipping, Unloading, Hoisting/Placing, Spreading/Laying (including cutting), and Fastening. The focus will be on industry standards, safe work practices and training. The target completion date is in 2004, possibly by Convention time.

Anyone who might have suggestions or requests for material or topics to be included should contact committee members Duff Zimmerman, Alan Sears, Chip Pocock or Jim Larson, either directly or through Pam Pocock at the SEAA office (336) 294-8880, or send your electronic messages: <mailto:executivedirector@seaa.net>.

Remember, this video is being created to help YOU and YOU know best what YOU want or need. Monitor the SEAA website for continuous updates on our progress at <http://www.seaa.net>